"Charm and Old World typicity, this attractively priced (and organic) Pinot offers aromas of smoke, sour cherry, raspberry and beet greens atop sweet spices, leather, anise and sauvage aromas (wild/gamy and forest floor notes). The palate is silky with chalky tannins throughout. Juicy cherry and berry flavours finalize in bittersweet cocoa and fine spice. Nice restraint - chic." — Wine Scores / D. Van Mulligen- March 2013

Cultivated organically since 1985, the Renaud Boyer vineyards face east at the foot of the slopes of Beaune in Burgundy, nurturing 50 year-old vines on silty, limestone-clay soil. Renaud Boyer, the talented young winemaker from Meursault, was given trust of the vineyards owned by his uncle, Thierry Guyot, a forerunner of the organic-biodynamic movement in Burgundy in the mid-1980's. All three vineyards (located in Puligny-Montrachet, Saint Romain and Beaune), have been cultivated organically and biodynamically for over 25 years. Renaud continues to work the soil organically with very little cellar intervention - no added yeast, enzymes or other additives. All viticulture, harvesting and vinification is 100% manual and estate-based.

The 2010 Beaune is a full-bodied pinot noir aged in middle oak barrels on fine lees. Deep red in colour with floral and spicy aromas, it has superb mouthfeel with good concentrations of Morello cherries, candied fruit and minerality, and is very well balanced with excellent structure on the palate.

Drinkable now and for the next 4-8 years, this powerful and elegant Beaune pairs well with red meats, game, salmon, cheeses, pastas and mushrooms.
