"A clarion call of clean grain ... Superb delivery: the structure is a joy, with a lush mouth-feel, the complexity by no means stilted ... salty note, oaky depth, light oiliness ensures barley lasts; superb light spicing intensifies towards the middle. Fabulous finale with spice ... and honeycomb; so clean ... A gem of a blend that really will take you by storm." — Jim Murray's Whisky Bible 2013/2014

"Malt Whisky with a PEATY finish"

Superb - Highly Recommended

"...midpalate is lively, malty, dry, meaty and intensely spicy. Finishes on a piquant note of toasted nuts, toasted grains and honey. A mouthful that makes you take notice due to its peculiarities and finesse. Liked it."

"... Dried fruit notes against a backdrop of malted multigrain wholemeal bread, delicate liquorice spice and creamy vanilla. A malt-filled finish, with undertones of spiced fruit. Well developed, balanced and very easy to drink."

"Aromas of caramel, papaya, and honeyed toast with a silky, fruity medium body and a warming peppery spice, dried fruit, roasted nut and a minutely smoky mineral finish. A charming whisky with wide appeal."

— Tastings.com, May-28-2014

A blend of the most characterful Speyside single malt whiskies with the finest Highland malts, with coastal influences. 100% single malts are aged for a minimum of 3 years in oak barrels.

Nose: Lightly peated, with aromas of heather, citrus fruits and subtle vanilla notes.

Palate: smooth and silky with honey and a faint salty hint of peat, with light spiciness and delicate oaky notes. Very long, slightly peaty finish.
